NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS COLLEGE COURSE SYLLABUS

Course Title:	Lifespan Growth & Development
Course Prefix 8	& Number:	PSYC2314	Section Number:	100	Semester/Year:	Spring 2019
Semester Cred	it Hours:	3	Lecture Hours:	3	Lab Hours:	0

Course Description (NCTC Catalog):

Life-Span Growth and Development is a study of social, emotional, cognitive and physical factors and influences of a developing human from conception to death.

Additional Comments from Saenz: During this course, students are encouraged to ask themselves: How can I apply this knowledge to my life? Regardless of career path, how can an introductory understanding of developmental psychology impact both my professional and personal life? Everyone is born. Everyone is at some point a baby, a child, an adolescent. So the subject matter is something we can all resonate with. While learning the different theories, stages, concepts, etc. you can look back at your own life and see how they played, are playing, and will play out, and through doing so gain a better understanding of not only the subject matter but also of yourself. When I think of Lifespan Development, I think of the common flow of life that weaves throughout each life pushing and pulling us all, as we uniquely navigate and move it, from birth to death.

"Underlying all individual drama, there is an existential foundation that alone enables us to understand in its unity that particular form of being we call a human life." – Simone de Beauvoir

Note: Please show up to class ready to learn. Take a break from everything else going on in your life. Put it all aside for the hour and 20 minutes we have per class, and enjoy your time learning, free of other stress. Doing so will certainly lead to success in this course.

Course Prerequisite(s):

Required Course Materials:

Santrock. A Topical Approach to Life-Span Development. 8th Edition. McGraw Hill. ISBN:9781260532012

Materials that Course Content is drawn from:

Erikson's Insight and Responsibility, Identity: Youth and Crisis, Vital Involvement in Old Age, and The Life Cycle Completed; Anna Freud's Psychoanalysis for Parents and Teachers; Levinson's The Seasons of a Man's Life; Karen's Becoming Attached; Alapack's Love's Pivotal Relationships; Beauvoir's The Coming of Age; and Frankl's Man's Search for Meaning. These works shape the course, however, they are not student reading materials.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES (From Academic Course Guide Manual/Workforce Education Course Manual/NCTC Catalog

At tl	At the successful completion of this course the student will be able to:
	Describe the stages of the developing person at different periods of the life span from birth to death.
	Discuss the social, political, economic, and cultural forces that affect the development process of the individual.
	Identify factors of responsible personal behavior with regard to issues such as sexual activity, substance abuse, marriage and parenting.
	Explain the biosocial, cognitive and psychological influences throughout the lifespan as an ongoing set of processes, involving both continuity and change.
	Describe the different developmental perspectives of the major theories of development (i.e. cognitive, learning, humanistic and psychodynamic).
	Identify examples of some of the cultural and ethnic differences that influence development throughout the lifespan.
	Discuss the various causes or reasons for disturbances in the developmental process.

 INSTRUCTOR RESPONSE: My goal is to respond to all emails and correspondence within 24 business hours, except for weekends and holidays. All assignments will be graded within two weeks of due date.

• ASSIGNMENT DETAILS:

- A. In-Class Activities/Additional Assignments: This category encompasses all graded activities or assignments that fall outside of the normal course elements noted above. Some examples of possible assignments are game quizzes and pre-chapter quiz searches.
 - a. Game Quizzes: Quizzes completed working together as a class, in a game format. Note usage will not be allowed.
 - b. Pre-Chapter Quiz Searches: Each quiz search will be made up of around 3-5 questions, timed, and administered PRIOR to a chapter grouping—meaning we have yet to study the material in-class. Students will be able to talk to/work with anyone in the class while completing the quiz. No books, notes, or Internet usage allowed. All you have to help is each other! Oh and your knowledge gained from studying the content in advance! ;)
- B. Make Your Own Study Guides and Mini Exams: Step 1- Prior to each exam and prior to receiving a study guide authored by the instructor, each student will put together a study guide of their own. In doing so, each student will review, gather, and organize all the information in the chapter grouping that they find worthy of being on the upcoming exam. Step 2- Each student will compose his or her own mini exam and answer key! The mini exam must be 20 questions long. Can you put together the best exam? See if one of your questions ends up on the actual exam and earn extra credit!

- C. Quizzes: At the end of most chapters/chapter groupings, a quiz will be administered. The only preparation necessary for these quizzes is attending class and actively participating/listening. Thorough note taking is encouraged, as you will be allowed to use your notes (but not your book or the Internet) while taking these quizzes. With each new quiz, I will hand back your previous quiz for a second chance on the questions you answered incorrectly. With having two chances on each quiz, I hope y'all come to think of getting something wrong/making a mistake as an opportunity to try again, an opportunity for growth :).
- D. Papers: There will be two papers during the semester. Instructions and guidelines for each will be administered to the students in writing at the time of assignment.
- E. Journal: Students will be required to keep a journal throughout this course. One entry must be completed per week (with exception of paper deadlines and exam weeks). The journals will note, analyze, and discuss content/ideas, from in class discussion and lecture and/or outside class reading and studying, that struck a cord with you. Focus is to be put on incorporating course content with existing knowledge, interests and personal experience, and making what you learn in this course your own. These journals should tell the story of your journey through this course.
- F. PARTI TIME! Class Participation: Each student is required to vocally participate in class ten (10) times per semester. These answers/insights must be of value in order to receive credit. However, incorrect or insubstantial comments will not be penalized in any way. Attempting to participate is encouraged regardless of the quality. Trying and struggling is better than not trying at all. Every time a student offers an insightful or correct comment they will be given a slip of paper, a "PARTI" SLIP (haha! Get it?!), to write their name on and turn in at the end of class.

Week of Class (as noted in Calendar below)	Points per Parti Slip Earned	Maximum Grade Possible (if all PS earned during this week)
13 th week and prior	14	100%
14th	9.8	70%
15th	7	50%
16th	4.2	30%
Finals Weeks	No Opportunity

a. Waiting until the last minute: You must earn all 10 of your Parti Slips by the end of the 13th week of class to receive full credit. Parti Slip Grading Policy:

- b. Participation Competition: While only required to obtain 10 Parti Slips, the student(s) earning the most slips by the end of the semester will receive 5 bonus percentage points added to their overall grade in the class!
- G. Exams: There will be three exams throughout the semester. The final exam will be noncumulative.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Regular and punctual attendance is expected of all students in all classes for which they have registered. All absences are considered to be unauthorized unless the student is absent due to illness or emergencies as determined by the instructor. It is the student responsibility to provide documentation as to the emergency for approval and judgment by the faculty member. Approved college sponsored activities are the only absences for which a student should not be held liable and only when provided by a college official ahead of the absence. Valid reasons for absence, however, do not relieve the student of the responsibility for making up required work. Students will not be allowed to make up an examination missed due to absence unless they have reasons acceptable to the instructor. A student who is compelled to be absent when a test is given should petition the instructor, in advance if possible, for permission to postpone the exam. Student will be dropped from a class by the Registrar upon recommendation of the instructor who feels the student has been justifiably absent or tardy a sufficient number of times to preclude meeting the course's objectives. Persistent, unjustified absences from classes or laboratories will be considered sufficient cause for College officials to drop a student from the rolls of the College. From Board Policy FC (LOCAL)

- o Additional comments from Saenz re attendance and classroom etiquette:
 - A. Attendance will be monitored. Showing up to class on time and actively wanting and making an effort to learn is considered the most integral part of taking this course and doing well. Anything discussed in class may be included on a quiz or exam, even if that information is not found in the textbook. As class participation is vital for optimal learning and retention, you will receive credit for demonstrating an active presence in class—see Participation portion of grading criteria. Additionally, those with perfect attendance during the semester will receive 8 extra credit percentage points on their final examination.
 - i. Arriving late or leaving early is unacceptable. However, it is understood that there are times that this is unavoidable. In such situations, please take a seat quietly in the back of the classroom and try not to disrupt the class. Do not forget to speak with me before or after this happens, otherwise you will be counted absent as a result of missing roll call.
 - B. Etiquette- I hope for our class to be something everyone looks forward to each week and a place where each of you have a sense of belonging and feel comfortable and excited to learn. It is incredibly important that all members of the class treat each other with respect and kindness. I have a zero tolerance policy when it comes to bullying. Please be courteous to others during class. All cell phones and electronic devices are to be turned off or silenced, and kept out of sight/reach during class. Texting or "looking up" information on your phone is prohibited during class. In addition, the following behaviors are unacceptable: 1) holding private conversations, 2) sleeping, 3) reading other materials, 4) doing other work or 5) cheating. Any violations of this policy will be addressed immediately and may result in a grade penalty and/or dismissal from class. Repeated violation may result in dismissal from the course. (Please see below for more information regarding Academic Dishonesty.)
 - C. Technology- Studies suggest that laptop use in class lowers student performance (e.g. from surfing the web in class, answering emails, online messaging, and multitasking). As a result, laptop and tablet use in class is discouraged, bordering on prohibited. If laptop/tablet usage poses a problem, distracting students from learning, I will ask all students to close/turn off their devices.
 - D. Make-up Exams/Quizzes/Assignments- 1) Exams: If you must miss an exam, you must provide me with documentation of an excused absence before you will be allowed to make up the missed exam. Aside from extreme circumstances/crises, a make-up exam will need to be completed within one week of the originally scheduled exam. Please communicate with me regarding these kinds of situations, and we will work things out. 2) Quizzes: THERE ARE NO MAKE-UP QUIZZES (because you will already have 2 opportunities to take each quiz). 3) Late Policy for all other assignments (ex. written assignments): For each day an assignment/project is late, 10 percentage points are deducted. Meaning if you turn in the assignment the day after it is due, the highest grade you can possibly earn is a 90%.

Last day to withdraw from a course with a "W" is April 4.

DISABILITY SERVICES (Office for Students with Disabilities)

The Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD) provides support services for students with disabilities, students enrolled in technical areas of study, and students who are classified as special populations (i.e. single parents).

Support services for students with disabilities might include appropriate and reasonable accommodations, or they may be in the form of personal counseling, academic counseling, career counseling, etc. Furthermore, OSD Counselors work with students to encourage selfadvocacy and promote empowerment. The Counselors also provides resource information, disability-related information, and adaptive technology for students who qualify.

For support, please contact the counselors at (940) 498-6207 or (940) 668-4321. Alternatively, students may stop by Room 170 in Corinth or Room 110 in Gainesville.
